

Sikirić, Hrvoje

Univ.-Prof. Dr.

Short biography

Professor Sikirić was born in Croatia in 1957. In 1979, he was awarded the title of Dipl. iuris by the Law Faculty of Zagreb. In 1987, he wrote his master thesis on „The Unification of the Commercial Agency in International Legal Relations”. Several years later, in 1994, he wrote his doctoral thesis on „The Agency Agreement and Private International Law – a Comparison“.

From 1979 to 1984, Professor Sikirić worked as a lawyer in training at the law office of Sikirić. Since 1984, he has been working at the Law Faculty of the University of Zagreb, and in 2005 he was promoted to professor.

He has completed numerous research stays, amongst others at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative and International Private Law in Hamburg and at the Asser Institute for Private International and European Law in The Hague. His main research interest lies in private international law, European civil procedure and arbitration.